

County seeks cheaper way to refurbish beach

BY JACQUI COCHRAN

The board of supervisors approved payment of $3,750 Monday for soil borings along Bayou Caddy.

The samples were ordered in the hope that a closer source of sand may be found for the refurbishing of beach-fronting Buccaneer State Park.

On November 30, District 1 supervisor Robert Peterson suggested the board investigate the suitability of a large sand bar southeast of Bayou Caddy. From here, he stated, sand may be pumped to the Buccaneer Park location at less cost than the proposed Henderson Point, Pass Christian site.

Should the Bayou Caddy site be acceptable, Bill Mitchell of Brown and Mitchell Engineering estimated a savings of at least $150,000.

HAZARDOUS MATERIAL

The board approved the incorporation of a Hazardous Materials Team into the county's Comprehensive Emergency Management Plan (CEMP).

The team, consisting of 13 firefighters and three law enforcement personnel will be trained in response and containment techniques in the event of any hazardous materials emergency within Hancock County.

Civil Defense director Bobby Boudin stated there are presently 20 facilities throughout the county where hazardous materials are stored.

"The team will control the situation," Boudin explained, "to where it is no longer life threatening to citizens, and until the state team arrives and removes all materials."

"They will not be part of the cleanup. That is the state's responsibility."

The team will be coordinated by county fire marshal Richard Pate and headed by Diamondhead fire chief Don Westbrook.

COURTHOUSE
The Hancock County Courthouse will be painted a tan color, imitating the original color of the brick.

Circuit Clerk Pam Metzler and architect Michael Reeves supported the color choice, along with four supervisors.

Reeves said the painters could apply a coat of the color to a sample section of the building for review by the board.

Board hears update on park improvements

BY JACQUI COCHRAN

County supervisors questioned parks and recreation commissioner A.L. Franklin Monday as to when it would be their district's turn for completion of various parks.

Supervisors approved a $9,084 bid from Mort Electric for the purchase of lights and equipment to be used in the illumination of a larger ball field at Necaise Crossing.

Prior to the vote, District 4 supervisor Wilmer Seymour said, "Nothing against Necaise Crossing, but before I vote, I want to discuss when District 5 will see the completion of the Kiln ball field."

Franklin told Seymour all lighting equipment for the Kiln field was purchased, and it is just a matter of coordinating the time between volunteers and park personnel for installation.

District 1 supervisor Robert Peterson voiced his concerns as to why the Lakeshore Drive basketball court and recreation area begun several months ago has not been completed.

Road and bridge supervisor Sam Cuevas said the road crew has been pre-occupied with a state aid road inspection.

Assistant road superintendent Tommy Moran reported work will resume on the basketball court and park when the state inspection is completed.

"All that remains at the Lakeshore Drive park," Moran stated, "is for fill dirt to be hauled in and worked up around the slab; to put up the fence, playground equipment and goals."

The state aid road inspection was completed Tuesday.

Arson ruled in Belle Creek fires

BY TRACI BONNEY

Arson has been ruled as the cause of two house and car fires at 1191 Belle Creek Road Saturday night, according to county fire marshal Richard Pate.

A fatal shooting also occurred at that address the day before, but Pate could not say for certain whether the two incidents were connected.

"That's something we can't determine yet," he stated. "We don't know, but it's a possibility."

Randy R. Juliao, 22, was killed in the shooting, and Robert Kevin Lane, 19, was injured. Lane was taken to Memorial Hospital in Gulfport.

Rancy J. Gambill, 23, was arrested Friday evening after the shooting and charged with murder. He is in the Hancock County jail under a $100,000

Public hearing set on theme park bill

BY JACQUI COCHRAN

A December 17 public hearing was ordered by the county Monday to discuss the proposed Delisle Improvement District Bill.

Hancock County Board of Supervisors and planning commission members will meet at 6 p.m. in the courthouse to receive public input prior to deciding whether or not to support the bill.

A recommendation of support by the planning commission was placed on hold by the board.

The bill was written by Mississippi Motorsports Park, Inc., a development group interested in building a 15,000-acre theme and motor park, to be divided between Hancock and Harrison counties.

Planning commission attorney John Scafiled stated the bill would, in effect, create a municipality not governable by the voters.

He added, the state legislature would review the final bill form, but the county should not rely on legislative legal staffers to correct or clarify any specifics relative to county concerns.

According to Stephen Guice, president of Mississippi Motorsports Park, 10,000 acres will be located in Hancock county north of I-10 from Diamondhead to just west of Highway 603, with 3-3/4 miles of the area extending into the buffer zone.

Guice presented the planning commission with maps of the proposed areas November 19.

The board accepted preliminary plans for a 79-lot subdivision at White Cypress Lake, following discussion of potential sewage disposal problems.

Board members questioned lot sizes in relation to current sewerage regulations which outlaw effluent discharge off the property.

Scafiled stated subdivision developers would have to obtain health department approval before final plans could be approved.

Acceptance of the Deer Park subdivision roads by the county was held until completion of punch items and replacement of PVC culverts are verified.

Board engineer Larry Seal suggested the county conditionally accept the roads.

District 3 supervisor Howard Lizana said, "I'm not voting for PVC culverts."

Bulletproof vest protects deputy

Some say clothes make the man. In 23-year-old Deputy Travis Foreman's case, clothes saved the man.

Foreman, a three-year veteran of the Hancock County Sheriff's Department, was caught in a shootout Sunday in Shoreline Park. Fortunately, he was wearing a bulletproof vest.

After responding to a domestic dispute at a Wood Street trailer, Foreman exchanged gunfire with Michael Zweifel, 48. Zweifel and his 35-year-old girlfriend Patsy Serpas share the trailer where the shootout occurred.

During the exchange of gunfire, Foreman was hit in the lower right chest. The bullet did penetrate the vest, but it made only a small scrape wound on Foreman's chest. The bullet exited the vest about three inches above its entry point.

Foreman was treated at Hancock Medical Center, then released.

Zweifel was later arrested, after police had surrounded the trailer and shot tear gas into it, only to discover he was not there.

He had gone to Louisiana. However, he turned himself in to Slidell police Monday morning and was brought back to the Hancock County jail that afternoon by Sheriff's Department officers.

Zweifel, who reportedly had been undergoing treatment for depression, is charged with aggravated assault on a police officer. He is in the Hancock County jail under a $100,000 bond.

Purcell Company applies for BMR dredging permit

BY TRACI BONNEY

Purcell Company Inc. recently filed an application with the Bureau of Marine Resources for permission to construct a marina/dockside gaming facility.

The public notice of the application stated that Purcell is requesting permission to construct a marina/dockside gaming facility and an access road near the county boundary on the northern shore of the Bay of St. Louis.

Plans are to dredge a 1,500-foot-by-75-foot channel; dredge a marina basin from uplands; construct a 1,500-foot bulkhead; construct 1,200 feet of piers within the basin; place mooring pilings for a gaming vessel; and construct a 10,500-foot access road from the Diamondhead Marina to the proposed site.

The Bureau of Marine Resources is requesting that if anyone wishes to make comments about or objections to the proposed activity, they submit those comments in writing to the Bureau of Marine Resources, 2620 Beach Blvd., Biloxi, MS 39531 and the Office of Pollution Control, P.O. Box 10385, Jackson, MS 39205 before 1 p.m. January 8, 1993.

Holcomb Hector, president of Purcell Company Inc., could not be reached for comment. However, in an article published near the end of November in The Sea Coast Echo, he stated that no definite plans for a casino had been made yet.

ROADS

Maurice Colly, developer of The Lakes subdivision, presented a letter of confirmation from the Mississippi State Highway Department naming Railroad Avenue in Clermont Harbor to be on the State Aid system.

The letter described Railroad Avenue as part of the Waveland-Clermont Harbor-Lakeshore Road.

Colly asked that the board apply for State Aid funds to pave approximately 1.5 miles of remaining dirt road from Clermont Boulevard to Lakeshore Drive.

Board president Mike Ladner said the board would take the matter under consideration.

He added that board members recently completed three days of road inspections throughout the county and would be discussing road priorities and State Aid expenditures within the next few weeks.

Road and bridge supervisor Sam Cuevas said the names of streets designated as of primary concern by the supervisors are not yet available, as he has not had time to transfer his notes into a list.

The board approved the hiring of an appraiser for the valuation of right-of-way lands along the Catahoula Creek bridge.

County engineer Larry Seal reported work on the Turtleskin bridge is waiting on environmental clearances.

OTHER BUSINESS

Board members approved the resignation of Ladner from the Waveland Regional Wastewater Management District as directed by the Mississippi Association of Supervisors.

Ladner said, the association recommended the resignation as a precaution against any possible conflict of interest.

Ladner's recommendation to appoint county building official Don Murray to his place on the district board was accepted.

Laura Mederos, director of the county Child Development program was instructed by the board to contact architect Mike Reeves for a cost estimate on the construction of a child care/development center.

Necaise told Mederos he felt a center could be constructed on county-owned property behind the county Human Services Complex at less cost than the $45-$55 per square foot cost quoted her thus far.

The board approved:

—the purchase of concrete for $47.75 per cubic yard, to be used on Beach Boulevard;

—the hiring of a part-time road crew worker as full-time for $4.50 per hour;

—the hiring of a road crew operator for $6.22 per hour, upon verification of personnel regulations concerning family relation to assistant road supervisor Tommy Moran.

—adoption of the bridge posting program for weight limit signs on all county bridges, to be paid by federal and state funds at a cost of $125 per sign, including post;

—amendment of road budget to include payment of $213,032 for loan to cover road operations between October 1, 1990 and January 31, 1992;

—payment of $773 to architect Fred Wagner for jail addition work;

—payment of $39,277 to Puckett Construction for jail addition work;

—execution of a one year contract with Mobile Medic for $87,981;

—payroll for election, park and planning commissioners;

—and the claims docket, including amendments.

"QUOTABLE QUOTES"

By Ellis C. Cuevas

Santa has been receiving a big welcome in Hancock County this year, as he has already visited many areas. Santa's visit to Kiln on Saturday was a big success. He was invited by the North Hancock County Business and Professional Organization.

The big Christmas tree is all lighted now in the Kiln at the Kiln/DeLisle Highway 603 intersection.

The tree lighting Saturday was a kickoff for the second annual Christmas for the needy program by the organization.

The special program provides toys, clothing and food for deserving families in North Hancock County.

The organization wants to know of a family, or child in the northern part of the county in need at this Christmas season.

Please call Billie Faye Lyons, 255-1188; Johnny Richard, 255-1843, or Harry Frierson, 255-3622.

If you would like to make a donation of toys, food, clothing, or cash, call one of the above.

Congratulations are in order for Conrad Maufray upon being selected as Hancock County Chamber of Commerce's Outstanding Citizen for 1992.

I have known Conrad for many years and have worked with him on several projects. He is very deserving to receive this special award.

He is always willing to help his fellow man and has been involved in goodness knows how many of those projects over the years.

Even after his retirement this year from Coast Electric after 40 years of dedicated service, Conrad is still very active in the community, still helping those in need.

A native of Hancock County, he is a graduate of Kiln Consolidated High School, prior to receiving accounting certification. He has always placed pride in being a native of the area.

On the lighter side, as I have been quoted, "Conrad has been the life of many a party and has even lost his hair at times."

Conrad, I hope you will continue to have a good life. Enjoy your retirement and do those things you like best.

On Sunday, Dec. 13, the BaySide Park Volunteer Fire Department will hold its annual Christmas parade.

The parade is to begin at 2 p.m. on Lakeshore Road and Hancock Drive and continue through BaySide Park on Hancock Drive to Highway 90, then Harbor Drive.

Santa will be riding high on top of one of the fire engines, said Mary LeBlanc, spokesman.

Santa is to have goodies for the children, candy and small toys.

The parade is made possible through the donations from local businesses and individuals in the community.

All children, along with their parents, are invited to the parade and to greet Santa.

Things were very active along Coleman Avenue Sunday night with the Festival of Lights and a big birthday celebration.

Along with all of the Christmas celebrations was an extra large cake to celebrate the 70th birthday of Mrs. Louise Lynch.

I know Mrs. Lynch all of my life. I was very happy to see so many well-wishers on hand to help her and her daughters and grandchildren celebrate her 70th.

Her drug store has been a landmark in the City of Waveland for many years.

Many events are still to happen in the area before Christmas.

On Saturday there will be a Breakfast With Santa at the Waveland Resort Inn. For reservations and particulars call the chamber at 467-9048.

At 2 p.m. Saturday, Santa will be singing and dancing at the chamber office beginning at 2 p.m.

Also on Saturday will be the Bay Business Association's Santa Work Shop at Carole's Olde Town Restaurant, Main Street from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m.

This will enable little shoppers to purchase gifts under $5 and receive assistance from Santa's Elves.

Coming on Monday will be the chamber's Open House from 5 to 7 p.m.

Beware the "ADA" scams

When the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) took effect on July 26 of this year, businesses across the country began scrambling to meet the requirements of the law.

The ADA applies to businesses with at least 25 employees and aims to make the workplace and jobs more readily accessible for the disabled.

Businesses have responded to the demands of the law by making their offices and buildings more accessible. The cost of adhering to the law has actually been lower than expected. According to the nonprofit Job Accommodation Network, which helps employers meet the ADA requirements, half of the jobs they have handled have cost less than $50.

There is a dark side, however.

Since July, the Better Business Bureau said, a "spate of new businesses, seminars and scams" have appeared, making their profit by charging businesses high fees while exaggerating the compliance requirements of ADA.

While there are certainly legitimate companies which offer assistance in meeting ADA standards, Mississippi businesses should keep their eyes and ears open when approached with help on ADA compliance. If there is a question about the ADA, businesses should call the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission. If there is a question about a business offering assistance with the ADA, call the Better Business Bureau.

The ADA is in effect, and business must abide by the law. What the business community does not have to abide by, however, are those who seek to profit from it.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Former resident Camors will be missed by many

Dear Editor:

I read the obituary of Robert L. Camors Sr. in the November 19 issue of the Echo. The obituary cannot and does not adequately set out the accomplishments of Bobby Camors, even though it is statistically accurate.

Bobby Camors was a very greatly moving spirit of this community for many, many years prior to the time he went to live in Jeanerette, La.

While still a young man, he was deeply interested in the community and, in particular, the young people of the community. Bobby was well off enough to purchase several yachts and became interested in the Sea Scout program. He devoted a great deal of time to these young people, who included David McDonald, C.C. McDonald Jr., Leo Seal Jr., Steel Ansley, Bud Phillips and the writer of this letter, as well as others whose names escape me at this time.

He taught us a spirit of cooperation and how to get along better with our fellow people. In all of the years I have known Bobby, I have never known him to become angry, although sometimes he would be a bit perturbed, and I have never heard him utter a disparaging word against any person.

C. C. McDonald Jr. and I, when returning from Bobby's funeral in Jeanerette, had occasion to reminisce a bit. We remembered an incident during our Sea Scout days when Bobby had quite a luxurious Cris Craft with light colored carpet and a complete galley. Someone, and it was probably Bobby, made a pot full of tomato gravy and meatballs, and one of the Sea Scouts (whose name we could not recall), who was carrying the pot of meatballs and gravy slipped, and the pot fell out of his hand onto the carpeted floor on the boat. Most people I know would react rather harshly at such an occurrence, however, Bobby merely shrugged it off with the attitude that these things happen and there's no use getting excited about it and merely began to clean up the mess.

This to me exhibited the true character of the man being tolerant in the actions of others, but not merely being tolerant to the point of being a "wimp."

When barely 16, I graduated from Bay High and Bobby was instrumental in convincing me and my parents that I should go to University of the South, more popularly known as Sewanee, which he had attended. He convinced my parents and me that it was the best place for a young man of my age to do. As usual, he was correct, because I found this, small school to be quite adequate for my requirements.

As noted in his obituary, he was a member of the Knights of Columbus. It did not mention that he was a moving figure in the activities in the Knights of Columbus. Bobby was also a moving force in the organization of the Bay-Waveland Yacht Club in 1948, and he and John Bell commissioned me to do a great deal of the legal work in the formation of the club. He told me no fee was involved, but that I needed the experience as I had only recently graduated from law school. Bobby will always be remembered by his Sea Scouts, and I know that Leo, C.C., Dave, Bud, Steel and I will miss him sorely.

Sincerely,
Walter J. Phillips

Women's shelter needs donations for residents

Dear Editor:

At this time of year most people think of Christmas trees, colorful lights, and the faces of smiling children.

What people don't know and don't like to think about are the numbers of women who find themselves seeking refuge at the Battered Women's Shelter.

During the holiday season the shelter houses more women and children than at any other time of the year. Imagine being forced from your home with no clothes, no toothbrush, or toothpaste, etc.

You can help! Donations for the Battered Women's Shelter would provide these necessities.

You may send donations to: The Word of Faith Christian Fellowship, P.O. Box 2121, Bay St. Louis, MS 39521, Phone 467-4488.

Please help someone through the holiday season!

Thank you,
Carol Lawson

Help the Salvation Army to help others

Dear Editor:

There is one charitable organization that has been feeding the hungry and homeless for years.

They also help out in war and disasters.

This is The Salvation Army. Without the help they gave my mother 80 years ago in Birmingham, Ala., I would probably not be here today.

One way to help The Salvation Army is to put something in the little red kettle you will see in the shopping centers.

I am not against our country trying to stop starvation in Somalia; but there are many here at home who need food and shelter also.

So when you see the red kettle, please drop something in it.

Let's all pray for the safety of our brave service men and women not only in Somalia, but all over the world.

Happy holidays to all, and as Tiny Tim would say, "God bless us everyone."

Respectfully,
Nina S. Garcia

ON PATROL

SHOOTING

Hancock County Sheriff's Department Investigator Matt Karl reported Tuesday that a Bay St. Louis man was injured during a shooting early that morning.

Karl said the Sheriff's Department received a call at approximately 7:41 a.m. Tuesday from Barbara Jean Mitchell, 34, of 3020 Road 528 in Pass Christian, who claimed she had shot her estranged husband Everett Mitchell.

According to the report, Mitchell, 33, was living at 829 Old Spanish Trail, Bay St. Louis, at the time of the incident.

Karl said Mrs. Mitchell reported that Mitchell had been calling and making threats Monday night. Mrs. Mitchell, who was in the house with only her two sons, reportedly barricaded the door with heavy furniture to prevent his entering.

She said he came to her house Tuesday morning and forced his way through the barricaded door. A heated argument reportedly arose, and she took up a pistol.

Karl said that during the course of the argument, Mrs. Mitchell allegedly fired twice, striking Mitchell in the back and the arm. Mitchell was transported to Hancock Medical Center.

Karl said Mrs. Mitchell had not been arrested at the time the investigation started, but the case remains under investigation and is being presented to the grand jury during its current session.

CREDIT CARD FRAUD

Bay St. Louis Police Detective Tom Burleson reported the arrest of a New Orleans woman Friday at Casino Magic.

Burleson said Philice Williams, 32, was arrested at approximately 5:54 p.m. December 4 and charged with two counts of credit card fraud after she reportedly tried to pass stolen credit cards for cash advances.

Bond was set at $20,000, but Williams is being held at the request of the New Orleans Police Department for probation violation, Burleson added.

Officer Dave Sellier was arresting officer; Detective Kurt Raymond is in charge of the investigation.

Boat entries include the winner of Biloxi's recent boat parade.

St. Clare Elementary and Coast Episcopal students will participate, as well as Brownie Troop 269 and the Diamond-head Baptist Youth Choir.

The yacht club will be open to the public and will serve a special menu. Bo and Dee will entertain beginning at 7 p.m.

COOKING UP A STORM

By Katy McGuire
Caire

Just as with so many other famed soups, the North American continent split pea soup was born of necessity. In the long, oh-so-cold winters and short growing season of Quebec and other parts of French Canada, North American colonists survived on foods which could be dried or cured for the leaner times.

They called their robust, filling pea soup "Habitant Pea Soup"—(the dweller's or resident's soup). It's known as "Potage St. Germain" in France and on menus at French restaurants; to us, it's just plain split pea soup—and delicious in any language!

I keep a variety of dried beans and peas on hand; and it's often a toss-up as to whether the last of the ham, (with its bone and trimmings) will go to Monday's pot of red beans or to a peas-and-rice dish or to the variety of bean soup. I often divide up the trimmings, or use salt pork or ham hocks or whatever's on hand; after all, isn't it said that variety is the spice of life? And, of good food, I might add.

Here's my version of:
HABITANT PEA SOUP
1 lb. dry split peas (I soak them overnight; you may prefer to soak one hour)

1 ham bone or ham hocks, or a cup or so of chunked ham or salt pork

3 quarts beef or chicken stock (or substitute water)

4 ribs celery, finely chopped

2 medium onions, finely chopped

2 carrots, scraped and chopped

1 tsp. thyme, 1 red pepper pod, finely chopped

1 bay leaf, optional

3 Tblsp. parsley, finely chopped

Pepper, salt as you wish

After you've soaked the peas overnight, drain them. Cover the peas (in a large pot of course, with the stock or water, add the ham bone or whatever) along with everything else but the parsley, which you are saving for garnishing the bowls of soup when serving.

Bring the whole business to a boil, then immediately cut the fire down, and simmer slowly for at least two or even almost three hours, until the peas are quite tender. At this point, if you're using a ham bone or ham hock, remove it and chop the meat into small pieces, then return the pieces to the pot. I like to mash some of the peas against the sides of the pot, just as I do when cooking red beans, to make it all more creamy. At any rate, when you serve the soup, be sure to sprinkle parsley atop each serving. (6 to 8 servings)

Some French cooks add just a pinch or so of sage to the soup during the cooking time. Some use a half-pound or less of salt pork, being careful in adding salt, as the pork itself is so salty.

Now, what do I do? As the soup has been simmering away, I've been munching away steadily on the French bread which was to go along with it—anyone have a cracker?

OLA downs the Doves

After three weeks of playing on the road, Our Lady Academy returned to a bitter cold St. Stanislaus stadium and kicked their way to a 5-1 victory over St. Scholastica.

"I've never seen the team play this well; their passing, shooting and defensive play were extraordinary," said Harry Hull, OLA athletic director. The Crescents found themselves down 0-1 after the Dove goalkeeper scored off of a direct kick just outside of the penalty area in the 12th minute of the match.

OLA rallied, but to no avail, as Louisiana's top rated goalkeeper saved everything that came her way.

Finally, Kristin Selle broke the ice by driving a low shot in the net 25 minutes into the game.

Erin O'Brien followed Selle's lead by virtually dribbling passed three St. Scholastica defenders and scoring the second OLA goal.

After the kickoff, O'Brien stole the ball and scored her second goal of the evening, maneuvering her way through the St. Scholastica defenders.

After the intermission, the Crescents did not slack up. Cheryl Willett scored her first goal of the season from a perfect assist by Annette Morel.

Marion Labat ended the scoring by drilling a 4-yard shot in the goal from her defensive position.

Amy Lee, Sharon Bradley, Gwin Krost and Jonna Ellis only allowed the Lady Doves to cross mid-field twice during the second half of the game. Sarah Smolensky and Danielle Gobert exemplified the Crescent defense with their fine performance at goalkeeper.

OLA travels to Mandeville this week, where they will face what Hull describes as their toughest match of the season.

OLA is now 3-3-1 for the season. They have two more games before the Christmas break.

9th grade Rocks defeat Vancleave

The 9th grade St. Stanislaus Rock-A-Chaws came back from a loss to Pass Christian last week, to defeat Vancleave 56-48 Saturday.

Wes Pugh paced the scoring for the Rocks with 16 points, followed by Correy Gex with 14 and Kelton Thompson with 13. Other SSC scorers were Marcel Singleton and Jason Kirschenheuter, 4 each; David Bell and Stephen Shockley, 2 each.

Coach Jeff Barbera said of the 9th grade Rocks' 3-6 season, "With a couple of breaks and a little luck, we could easily be 7-2 or even 8-1. The majority of our losses have been by five points or less."

"Our goal at the start of the season was to improve every game. For the most part, we've done that, but we have yet to put together a complete game. "Once we do that, I feel we will be tough to beat."

The squad travels to St. Paul's of Covington today.

Last week, the 9th grade Rocks were among three SSC teams to drop games to Pass Christian in junior high basketball action.

The 7th grade Rocks lost 55-23 to the Pirates; the 8th grade, 56-33; and the 9th grade, 47-28.

Derek Bradley paced the scoring for the youngest Rocks with 9 points, followed by Tyree Houres with 8.

Pirate score leaders were Edward Buchanan with 21 and Lauren Jaynes with 14.

The 2-4 7th graders next face crosstown rival Bay Jr. High Monday at SSC.

In the 8th grade match, Davis Eiermann led for SSC with 19.

Chris Ladner scored 17 for PCHS, followed by Darrell Dedeaux with 16.

The 8th graders, 1-6 for the season, host Bay Jr. High Monday evening.

In 9th grade action, Kirschenheuter and Pugh tied for the lead with 8 each, and Gex stood out on rebounds.

FISHIN' Y'ALL

By Jim Maness

It's time to go fishin' y'all. The weather has not been conducive to good fishin' this past week, so the reports are very few and far between.

One really important report came in this past week, and that is to: "Watch out for a new type of speckled trout." These trout have a yellow string-looking object coming out of their top fin.

Tommy Bordage was able to catch 40 trout in two days using live shrimp. The shrimp were fished about six feet under a popping cork. All of the trout were caught in Bayou Caddy.

The interesting thing about Tommy's fishing trip is that it was done with members of the Bureau of Marine Resources aboard his boat. As a matter of fact, the BMR folks even took the trout off of the hook for Tommy.

Something really important is going on in Bayou Caddy that all fishermen should be aware of, and that is a speckled trout study. That's right. A real honest-to-goodness speckled trout study, and it needs all of our help.

The way we can help is to record the number on the yellow tag of any trout that we might catch that has a yellow tag. There will be a phone number to call listed on the tag.

Please use extreme care in handling a tagged trout. Don't touch it at all if you can help it. Get a measurement of its length, and weight if possible, and return it to the water as soon as possible.

Call in all the information that you have on the tagged fish as soon as possible.

We have asked for years for some solid scientific evidence so that size and creel limits can be set scientifically on our speckled trout. Here is our chance to help develop some solid data.

Speckled trout study being conducted at Bayou Caddy

A few other reports came in this week concerning redfish. It seems that the redfish are hungry around the LaFrance area.

For those fresh water fishermen: Bayou LaCroix has been producing some nice catches of bass and crappie.

I have had a few fishin' buddies who have informed me that since the fishin' reports are slow in coming in, perhaps the turtle should go huntin' instead of fishing. These fishin' buddies are really good sources of fishin' information.

So, I felt maybe I should at least try to include some items about huntin' in my columns, and make an attempt to gain some expertise about hunting. So, the next time I go fishin' I will be sure to wear "hunter orange." Maybe this will show them that I am serious about trying to gain huntin' expertise. See, I will do anything to appease my hunting buddies.

The big trouble that I am having is I cannot find a rifle rod and reel or even a shotgun rod and reel. I wonder if they come in light action or even medium action? Naw, they must only come in stiff action. They have to be hard to cast with no flexibility.

Anyway, for those folks who like the loud noises, I am told that this is turning out to be one of the best years in a long time for the deer hunters.

This week's wonderful wise words: The trout study is a chance to help ourselves if we participate.

I wonder if hunter orange will scare the fish, turtle.

29-pound redfish

Scott Gomila of Waveland displays a 28.9-pound, 42 1/2-inch redfish he caught wade fishing in 3 1/2 feet of water east of Nicholson Avenue. Braving cold temperatures, Gomila caught the fish on chartreuse cocahoe bait.

The Bob Harmon Forecast

NFL Forecast for Saturday, Sunday and Monday Dec. 12, 13 and 14

*Buffalo, 28—Denver, 20
(Saturday) The Bills beat the Broncos in both 1990 and '91, last year in the AFC championship game, 10-7. This year Denver won't make it that far, as Buffalo should prove in this game.

*Phoenix, 24—N.Y. Giants, 22
In October, Rodney Hampton rushed for 167 yards as the Giants beat the Cardinals 31-21. Call it a mild upset, but we think Phoenix will end its losing streak against N.Y., now eight games long.

Dallas, 31—Washington, 28
(Sunday) In the first Monday-night game of the season, Dallas notched its third win over Washington in their last four games, 23-10. The Cowboys will make the Redskins' playoff chances slim indeed.

*Detroit, 26—Cleveland, 24
Judging by wins and losses, the Browns would be the favorites, but this looks more like a near-tossup, so the Lions get the home-field nod. In 1989, the last time they played, Detroit won 13-10.

*Houston, 27—Green Bay, 19
These two teams have met only five times in 20 years, with the Oilers holding a 3-2 edge. Green Bay has run up a lot of yards but not many points; it may not even get the yards against Houston's D.

*Kansas City, 30—New England, 14
In their only game in the past 10 years, the Chiefs pounded the Patriots 37-7 two years ago, and this one won't be much closer. With the AFC West title within reach, K.C. won't be letting up.

*Minnesota, 28—San Francisco, 27
The only difference in this game, a possible NFC championship preview, may be the Vikings' home dome. The 49ers have won four of the last five games they've played, but Minn. won last year 17-14.

New Orleans, 32—L.A. Rams, 23
When the Saints and Rams met in October, L.A. kept it close, losing 13-10 on a late Morten Andersen field goal. Since then N.O. has hit its stride, while the Rams have stumbled through the schedule.

*N.Y. Jets, 22—Indianapolis, 16
The Colts' 6-3 overtime win over the Jets earlier this year was a comedy of dropped passes, missed field goals and penalties. If they play that way again in N.Y., the boys will be deafening.

Philadelphia, 29—Seattle, 10
The Seahawks have such an inept offense and the Eagles such a solid defense that the score shouldn't be too far off that of their last game, in 1989, won by Philadelphia 31-7.

Pittsburgh, 27—Chicago, 13
Three years ago, when these two last played, the Steelers were strong and the Bears were embarrassing themselves—and the Bears won easily, 20-0. Don't count on that happening again.

*San Diego, 26—Cincinnati, 16
The Bengals have won two straight against the Chargers, in '88 and '90. Both teams started the year looking like AFC bottom feeders, but this time Cincinnati will find itself looking up.

*Tampa Bay, 24—Atlanta, 18
Last year the Falcons bombed the Buccaneers 43-7, but this year neither team is capable of so dominating the other. Both are better at losing, having given up many more points than they've scored.

*Miami, 31—L.A. Raiders 24
(Monday) The Dolphins are the better team, but the Raiders have beaten them seven out of the last eight times they've played and tend to rise to the occasion for this kind of game. It'll be close.

Lady Raiders still undefeated

BY TRACI BONNEY

Coast Episcopal High School's Lady Raiders maintain their undefeated record after a 63-22 home win Tuesday over Faith Academy of Mobile, Ala.

The Lady Raiders outscored Faith Academy in all four periods of play, putting 17 points on the board in the first and fourth quarters, 15 in the second and 14 in the third. Faith

Academy's girls scored 6 points the first quarter, 8 the second, and four in the third and fourth periods of play.

Mandy Williams led scoring for the 12-0 CEHS team with 18 points, followed by Megan Uram with 16. Morey Lefevre with 15 and Vanessa Shiyon with 11. Miriam Salloum added 3 points.

Lefevre had 10 steals and nine rebounds for the Lady Raiders, while Uram contributed six assists, nine steals and seven rebounds. Williams added four assists.

Coach Kristin Townsend commented, "I was very proud of the way the girls played."

"This was the best the girls have played so far, as far as team play, working together, filling the lanes on fast breaks, moving the ball around. Everything clicked."

In the boys' game, Coast Episcopal made a valiant effort but was unable to avoid its first defeat of the season, as Faith Academy edged the home team 65-61.

Having lost a starter, CEHS started two eighth graders and two ninth graders.

Junior Adrian Breaux paced the Raiders with 22 points, followed by Lamar Price with 17, George Hlass and Brandon Alexander with 8 each, and Tommy Rumrill with 6. Breaux made the game's only 3-point goal and contributed four assists, while Price grabbed 14 rebounds and Alexander had six steals.

Coach Keith McQueen commented, "It was an excellent game, a well-fought contest. The boys made their best effort."

The Raiders are 11-1 overall, 7-0 in district for the season.

SSC to host Jesuit Friday

Special to the Echo

Next Friday night basketball action heats up at the Brother Peter Gym at St. Stanislaus when the highly regarded Blue Jays of Jesuit travel from New Orleans to tangle with the Rock-A-Chaws.

The Rocks will try to avenge last season's 53-46 Blue Jay home court win.

Three games are on tap beginning at 4:30 p.m. with Coach Jeff Barbera's freshmen meeting the Jesuit ninth graders. Coach Jerry Spell's junior varsity team hooks up with the Blue Jay JV at 6 p.m. The varsity game is set for 7:30 p.m.

Although SSC varsity record is 4-6, they have played a rigorous schedule to date.

"We are extremely young and inexperienced," said Coach Jay Ladner, "and we felt like we needed to bring the team along quickly. We returned only one of our top 10 players from last season."

"We have played Biloxi, Long Beach, Shidell and Picayune—in addition to other tough opponents—and we have had the opportunity to win each game except Biloxi. I'm proud of our kids up to this point."

Athletic director Jerry Spell indicated ticket sales are moving briskly, and a sell-out is a possibility. Tickets may be purchased in advance from the school.

Hancock girls split with Picayune/Ocean Springs

The Hancock High School girls basketball team lost a close game to Picayune Tuesday night at HHS, 60-55 following Friday's 59-42 victory over Ocean Springs.

Leah Smith paced the team against Picayune with 22 points, followed by Donna Carrell with 12; LaShea Ladner, 10; Stacey Ladner, 4; Angela Reynolds, Chastity Head and Chellie Ladner, 2 each; and Heather Kopf, 1.

Lead scorers for Picayune were Kamisha Ellis, 25, and Nadja Ellis, 12.

Hancock scores by quarter were first, 12; second, 15; third, 17; and fourth, 11.

Leading scorers for Friday night were:

—HHS players, Leah Smith, 20 points; and LaShea Ladner, 16 points;

—Ocean Springs players, C. Manning, 23 points; and D. Galloway, 9 points.

Rebound leaders for HHS were Chellie Ladner, 9; LaShea Ladner, 9; and Smith, 8.

LaShea Ladner claimed 4 steals, while Angela Reynolds took two.

Reynolds had 8 assists and LaShea Ladner, 5.

The HHS girls will compete Thursday, Friday and Saturday in the Hancock Tournament at Hawk stadium.

Rocks lose to Greyhounds

The St. Stanislaus soccer team saw its eight-game winning streak come to an end Monday night, losing to Ocean Springs 3-2.

The Greyhounds scored two goals in the first five minutes of the game.

SSC came back with two goals at the end of the half to tie the score at intermission.

Nathan Middleton scored both of St. Stanislaus goals. He had one unassisted and one assisted by Charles Oliver.

The two teams played to a tie until Ocean Springs delivered an unassisted shot from the outside with five minutes left in the game.

The junior varsity kept its winning streak alive by defeating the junior varsity Greyhounds 5-1.

The first four goals were scored by Chad and Daniel Patton who each had two. The final goal was scored by Carlos Gonzales.

Defense was led by keeper Tyler Rainey and fullbacks Jimmy Williams, Bobby Williams, Brooks Quinlan, Aubrey Galindo, Leo Laurent, Rodrigo Hernandez and Timmy Kingston.

Tigers lose two to Perry Central

The Bay High basketball teams dropped two games to Perry Central High School Tuesday at Perry Central in New Augusta.

In the girls game, BHS players Angelle Duncan, Taaya Dawson and Turkessa McGowan each scored 20 points. The final score was 40-6.

The 0-10 team's next game is against Hancock in the Hancock County Tournament.

In the boys game, Perry Central scored 72 points to Bay High's 64. Tripp Whavers paced the Tigers' scoring with 17 points, followed by Travis Collins with 16; Moises Cohen and Danny Jackson with 8 each; Tristian Robertson with 7; and Henry Bouganin with 2. Three-pointers were scored by Whavers (three), Collins and Robertson (one each).

Collins added seven assists, while Cohen led rebounds with 11 and Bouganin grabbed six rebounds. Collins and had eight steals.

The Tigers made 14 of their 17 free throw attempts.

Coach Mark Collins commented, "The downfall in this game came with two minutes left until halftime. Bay High was up by 9 points, but because of turnovers and a technicality, we entered into halftime with a 2-point advantage."

"However, even though the team shot poorly in the first two periods, the team was still in the game."

Indeed, the team's shooting percentage increased from 18 percent in the first period to 38 percent in the second, 44 percent in the third and 62 percent in the final period.

IN AND AROUND DIAMONDHEAD

By Margaret Williamson

DOLLS AND BEARS

On Wednesday afternoon, at the Diamondhead Community Center, dolls in various shapes and sizes and bears in all their regalia were on display for all to see.

The mommies who dressed and decorated them come from Diamondhead church groups and service organizations throughout Hancock County.

In all, there were 242 dolls and 83 bears, which will be distributed to eligible boys and girls, along with food baskets from the Gulfport Salvation Army (GSA) as part of their Christmas toy program.

A lovely tea party with abundant goodies was enjoyed by Mrs. Jean Duell, commanding officer of the GSA, some of her staff, Mrs. Plugfelder, Arnos and Gex, chairmen of the event, and all the ladies who attended.

(almost finished) auditorium.

COMMUNITY ASSOCIATION

Philip Garberg, president, is trying to form a committee to develop a position that Diamondhead should take regarding proposed legislation creating the DeLisle Improvement District, which if passed, will encompass the Theme Park/Race Track on a site just west of the Jourdan River.

He is urging all citizens of Diamondhead with expertise in planning bond sales, lobbying, etc. to contact him. He is trying to get at least one copy of the report and bill. Stephen Guice intends to submit to the state legislature when it convenes in January, so that a committee can be formed to review and make comments on the project.

Comments from citizens other than committee members are solicited and welcome, and should represent Diamondhead final position in the matter.

The Diamondhead Community Association needs at least a majority of the property owners as members to carry out its intended purpose to conduct its affairs for the mutual benefit of the membership, and as a civic improvement and advisory board.

The cost is only $10 per year and can be paid at the next general meeting in February.

RED RIBBON CHRISTMAS

The totally full parking lot at the Diamondhead Days Inn last Thursday night confirmed that the Red Ribbon Christmas production, sponsored by Hancock Bank and the Diamondhead Business and Professional Organization, was a huge success.

Local merchants and restaurants each put their best foot forward with their festive holiday displays. While prizes were given out, good food and desserts were enjoyed by all.

This Christmas and through the year, please support your local merchants and shop at home.

NEWCOMERS LUNCHEON

Some 130 members of the Newcomers Club had their Christmas luncheon and holiday style show Dec. 4 at the Diamondhead Days Inn.

The models were all aglitter in their blouses, dresses and jackets from Sequins Original in Slidell, Donna Urbans, Gloria Raffalt, Sylvia Smith and Sue Ellen Pollet brightened up the runway in their jeweled finery.

Louis Connelly and Rose Hobbs and their committee just outdid themselves with their beautiful angels and table decorations. The Inn prepared a wonderful menu of special chicken with all the trimmings, and topped off the meal with Macadamia nut-flavored coffee. Yum, good!

SPIRIT OF CHRISTMAS

I was fortunate to be invited to Diamondhead Academy's Christmas musical, "Celebrate December" on Dec. 7, held in the

The exhibit's theme centered around Songy's piece "L'Amour Pense L'Amour" (Love Contemplates Love). Included in the many works on display were, "Bounty," which depicts the Coast's ecological abundance; "Sidewalkers," a study of the wetlands; "The Oysters," and "Returning," about the return of the brown pelican to the Coast.

Mr. Songy's latest endeavor is a collaboration with Greenpeace, the environmental watchdog group. His aim is to sell several major pieces, then donate a portion of the proceeds to Greenpeace.

This was the second major exhibit presented by the Diamondhead Art Guild through the coordinating efforts of Guild president Skip Alfonso, who aspires to bring new dimension to the Diamondhead group and the Gulf Coast.

Wine and some very unusual wonderful-tasting hors d'oeuvres were prepared by Chef Henry of Le Teagarden in Gulfport. Both exhibitions were free to the public.

THE SEA COAST ECHO—THURSDAY, DECEMBER 10, 1992-1B

Deck the Halls...

Allowing children to make decorations increases feeling of self-worth, adds to fun

Special to the Echo
What do potatoes, sponges and paint have to do with making Christmas especially merry for children?

These items can be used to create distinctive and inexpensive holiday wrapping paper and greeting cards, with such family fun having the added benefit of making children feel that they are valued and an integral part of an important holiday.

To make the personalized Christmas wrapping paper and cards, cut holiday designs out of synthetic sponges or potatoes, using cookie cutters for patterns if you don't feel particularly artistic.

If potatoes are used for the project, cut the vegetables in half and blot the moisture from the cut surface with a paper towel. Draw a design on the potato, and then scoop away the part of the potato surrounding the design.

director of the Willie Price University Nursery School at The University of Mississippi, talked about the added benefits of involving children in holiday preparations and utilizing their creations.

"This lets children know they are important and what they do is important. It gives them a feeling of self-worth," said Dr. Bomba, who is also an assistant professor of home economics.

What would be the reaction to presents wrapped in paper made by young artists or a Christmas tree covered with ornaments created by little hands?

"Tacky" might be the word that comes to mind with some, while others may see the decorations as contributing to a true, childlike Christmas," she said.

Of course, if your sense of style or holiday entertainment plans just can't mesh completely with child-inspired decorating, Bomba suggests having two Christmas trees—one for the children to enjoy and another for the adult guests who will be visiting the home. Just remember that, to create memories, children need time, love and attention.

When you hit upon a holiday activity everyone seems to enjoy, make it a Christmas tradition. "Traditions give children security. Traditions help children find their place in society," Bomba said.

In addition to creating homemade wrapping paper for Christmas, here are a few other ideas for parents to enjoy with their children: —Bake and decorate cookies. Use some on the Christmas tree, and carry children by neighbors' homes so that they share some of their creations with others.

—Make Christmas ornaments out of anything—Playdough, plastic lids, styrofoam and paper scraps and decorate them with sequins, glitter, yarn or even buttons.

—Create garlands for the Christmas tree or other spots around the home. Garlands can be made by stringing popcorn, fresh cranberries, cereal, Lifesavers, marshmallows or a combination of things.

—Assist children in decorating the dinner table for a holiday meal, and let them make place cards or place mats. Let them plan the menu or even prepare one of the menu items.

—In addition to the familiar "Letter to Santa," a family can write a letter of praise—with children naming all the "gifts" or blessings they received throughout the year.

Alicia Faucetta creates a Christmas angel.

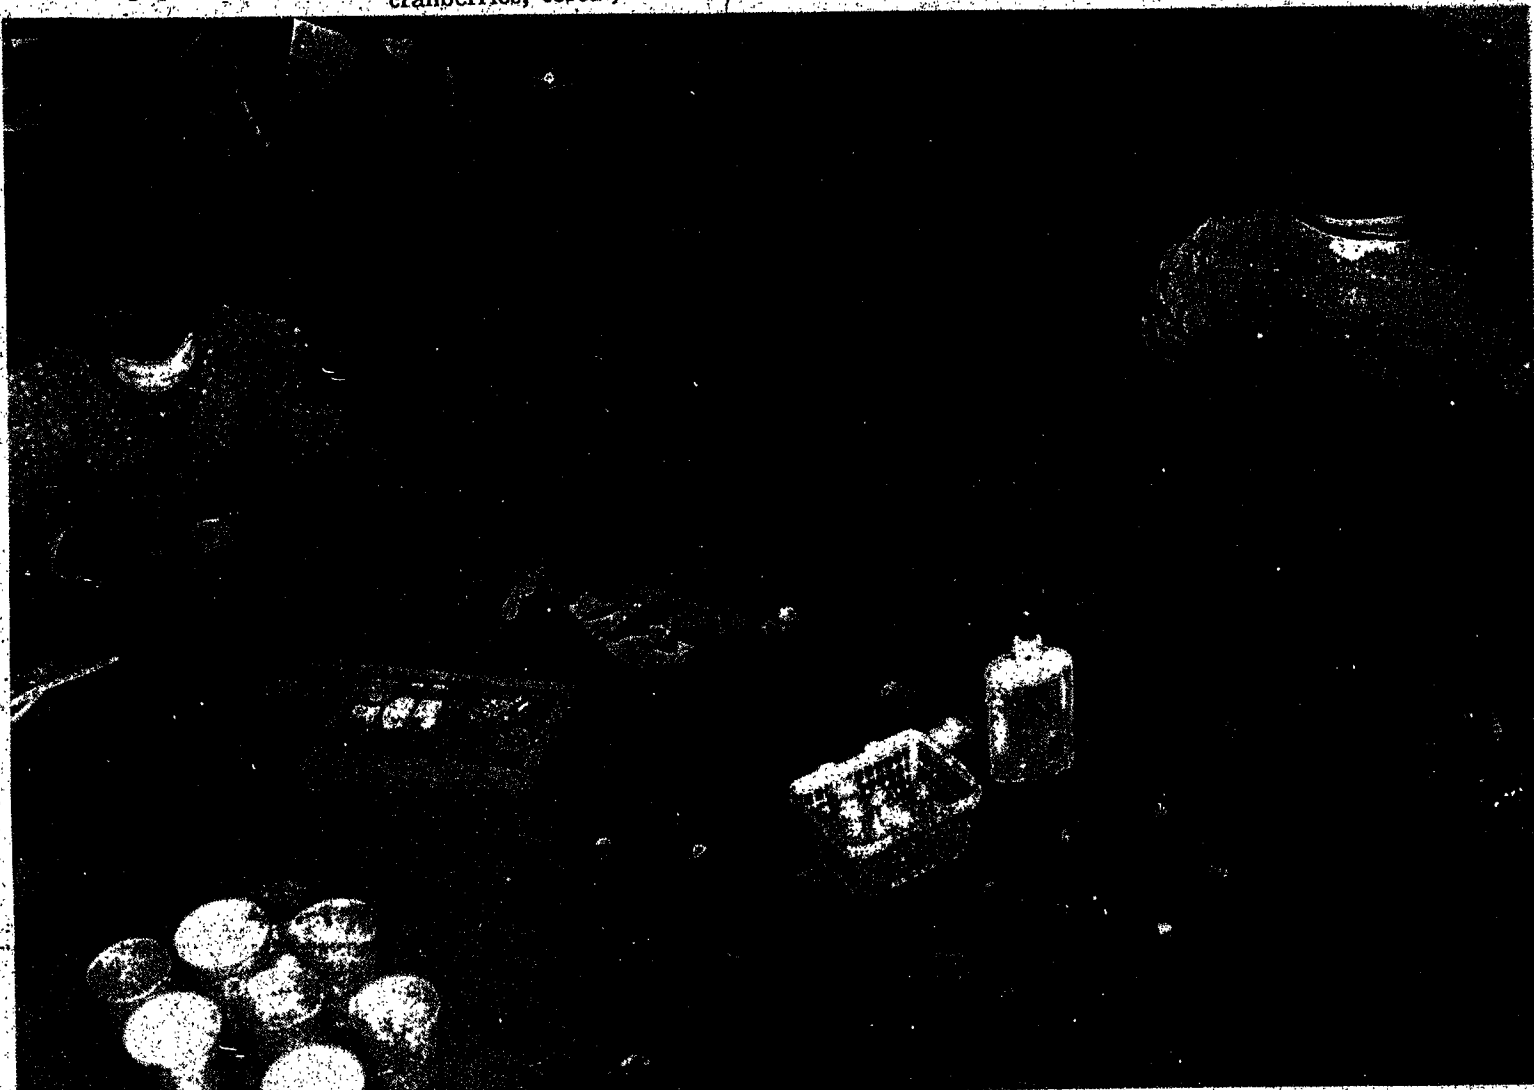

Pour a little tempera paint on a paper plate and brush it around for a thin covering that won't create blobs of paint; or make a stamp pad by placing two or three thicknesses of paper towel on a ceramic plate and applying enough paint to saturate the towel.

Press the potato or sponge in the paint and then stamp the design on plain notecards or construction paper or on the wrapping paper. Remnant newsprint is particularly good and inexpensive for this and other creative children's projects.

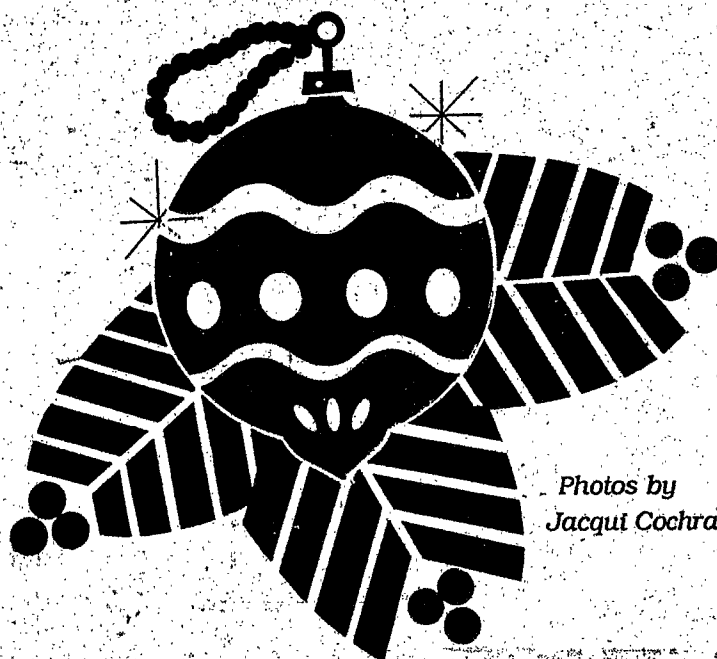

While explaining how to use sponges and potatoes to print Christmas wrapping paper, Dr. Anne Bomba, Stephen Boh prepares a Santa Claus hanging.

Candy cane planters

You expect to see candy canes stuffed in Christmas stockings or hanging from the tree. But we suggest something a little different this year: Fashion a candy cane planter.

Besides the candy canes, the materials you'll need are few—just an ordinary glass jar and an adhesive called Cling (you can buy it at your florist). The size of the jar isn't important, but the larger it is, the more candy canes you'll need.

Begin making the planter by applying Cling in two rings around the jar, one near the top and the other near the bottom. Then press a candy cane into the Cling. Continue attaching candy canes side-by-side until they completely ring the jar, leaving no gaps. Make sure that the crooks are pointing outward so there's room for the plant.

For a final festive touch, wrap the planter with a colorful ribbon.

Many plants are suitable for this planter, but bright-green foliage plants are more in keeping with the colors of the season. Whatever plant you choose, keep it in its original pot so you can easily remove it from the planter after the holidays are over.

Felt tree ornaments

Materials (for one ornament):

3 1/2" square red felt
3 1/2" square white felt red and green fine-tip pens
6" gold thread
white household glue

Make a pattern for white felt tree, trace around pattern on white felt, and cut out. Make a pattern and cut 3 red hearts.

Glue white tree on red tree. Glue red hearts on white tree, with smallest heart at top and largest at bottom.

Draw swirls with a green pen and make a row of dots with a red pen.

Thread gold thread through a needle with a large eye and pull thread through top of tree. Tie in a loop to make a hanger for the ornament.

Koloskov named SSC senior of month

Konstantin Koloskov has been named "Senior of the Month" for November at St. Stanislaus.

This award, voted on by the faculty, recognizes seniors who display sincerity, enthusiasm, family spirit, involvement, observance and responsibility.

Koloskov, an exchange student from Moscow, was the 1989 Champion of the USSR in soccer. He became a member of the Youth National Team of the Commonwealth and the Moscow All-Star Team.

Konstantin's friendship with Dr. and Mrs. Max Edrington of Long Beach began two years ago with the Edrington's involvement in the "Sports for Peace" program.

The Edringtons traveled several times to Moscow where they met the Koloskovs. This year the political changes in Russia allowed Konstantin to come to America to complete his education.

Konstantin has merited beta honor roll and is a key member of the SSC soccer team.

"Konstantin has excellent skills with a powerful shot. He is an unselfish player and has a great vision of the field and his other teammates," said soccer coach Tim Burns. Koloskov plans to complete his education in America.
